

Politics and Politicians

PERSONAL

The legislature which convenes next Monday will be organized by the Republicans. Senator Chapin of White Pine will likely be the speaker of the senate, as no formidable opposition to his candidacy has yet arisen; two candidates are out for speaker of the assembly—Chandler of White Pine and Tannehill of Storey. Tannehill will carry the bulk of southern Nevada's support.

The "plum of plums," internal revenue collector, lies among the following: Former Sheriff C. N. Ray of Fallon, H. J. Humphries and L. A. Speller, both of Reno, and H. R. Grier of Tonopah. A telegram from Reno states that C. N. Ray has the lead in this fight, with Humphries second. For surveyor-general, H. B. Maxson of Reno has a good lead. However, if Grier of Tonopah is unsuccessful in landing the ambition he will be a strong contender for this place.

The two land office jobs are not sought by anybody in this southern section, and will likely be filled by applicants from the northern part of the state.

Chief States marshal probably will fill to J. H. Fulmer of Elko, with W. S. Phillips of Goldfield as deputy marshal.

For the office of federal district attorney there are more applications than for all others combined; practically the whole legal talent of Reno is flitting with it, with a great number of applicants from other parts of the state. The favorites seem to be Ben Henley, formerly of Goldfield, now of Reno; Frank H. Norcross, of Reno; and J. O. Thompson, of Tonopah.

George Mills and Henry Heidenreich of Carson are after William Burns job at the Carson mint.

Local Politics.

The three Democratic county commissioners have been very alert in "cleaning house" since they took office, and are shaking up the whole organization, even to the garage man, who has been replaced by a "deserving Democrat." The Republican fire chief is still weathering the storm, but from mutterings and undercurrents his future tenure will be short lived.

Not less than six aspirants loomed in this position early in the week, but it has now dwindled to two—Charles Mayes and Emory Arnold. Both have had fire fighting experience. Mayes serving in the local department and Arnold serving five years where Henry Schaffolt, the famous fireman, imported from Denver, to Goldfield during his boom.

Dick punnap, the "walking delegation of democracy," held another meeting of the faithful last Monday night, which almost wound up in a counterpunching. Dick, it seems, visited all present to pungle $19.95 each for the good of the order, and money to go to Reno headquarters to be expended from there as they saw fit. The suggestion didn't sit at all on the members, so Ben Henley usually says his mind. He voiced his sentiments which were to the effect that the aforesaid 19.95 per cent should be spent at home, and if the up-state lads wanted to stretch firmly down this way they could add to this sum. But this wouldn't help defray Dick's salary and expense account, which is $5000 a year, it is said, so it was frowned down.

Detached from his subject and to use commissioners and appointments and stentorionally upheld the Andrew Jackson theory, to the victor belongs the spoils—remember the Democratic commissioners—but several farsighted brethren looked Ben off from further pressing the issue until Jim McQuillan came confound, then it would be in order.

Next week we may draw your attention to a bill to be presented to the legislature creating a new job in the courthouse, but the Republicans in Carson will take care of that bill.

THEY USUALLY DO

"Whenever he scents liquor," says a prohibition enforcer, "the duty of a good citizen is to trail it." By that test the good citizenship hereabouts must rate fully 99.5 per cent.

Not Altogether Aged. There is a woman in our neighborhood who is eighty years of age, but who walks with an erectness and springiness that is the envy of women many years younger than she. The other day my young daughter saw her pass, and, turning to me, she said: "Mother, her face is much older than her legs, don't you think?"—Exchange.

WHO'S WHO?

By C. L. B.

WILLIAM JAMES DOUGLASS

better known as "Bill" Douglass is one of the real old-time sagebrushers. Bill landed in Nevada sometime between the years of 1894 and 1897, and located at Solaville. At that time Solaville was a thriving burg, the principal industry being the manufacture of soda water. Douglass came highly recommended and took over the management of the concern. Shortly after the camp of Candelaria was discovered and Bill stampeded to the new El Dorado. He engaged in mining and was successful in his undertaking. While there a baseball team was organized, but only six baseball players could be found who knew the national game. Douglass was placed in the field and covered left, right and center field for his team, playing all three positions like a big league. The Candelaria ball club during that season played teams from Columbus, Fish Lake valley and Belleville and was usually victorious.

Douglass had many friends among the Indian tribes and soon learned their language. He at one time was stated as teacher for the state Indian school, but declined the position. He still uses an Indian expression, "Yes no see."

When Tonopah was discovered Douglass was one of the first to make his appearance and has lived here continually since 1901. During that period he has been interested in the upbuilding of the "largest silver producing camp in the world." He was one of the organizers of the Tonopah Midway and is rated as one of the best experts in the mining game in the west.

For several years Bill has been on the board of county commissioners of Nye county, and it is said he looks over each county bill presented for payment three times before he gives it the O. K.

No one knows Mr. Douglass' age, as he never would divulge that information. Some say he is between 65 and 82 years of age.

During his residence in Tonopah he has never indulged in a baseball game, but it is said he has an uncle in San Francisco by the name of Douglassky who keeps three bulls in front of his establishment as a gentle reminder of the times when Bill was an expert pupil on the diamond.
